

Donation Acceptance Policy

The American Arbitration Association, Inc. – International Centre for Dispute Resolution Foundation, Inc. (“Foundation”) actively solicits and welcomes donations to further the mission of the Foundation. The Foundation is a non-profit organization under the Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3). Donors are encouraged to seek the assistance of personal legal and financial advisors in matters relating to their donations, including the resulting tax consequences. The following policies and guidelines govern acceptance of donations made to the Foundation.

Donations will be accepted and welcomed from individuals, partnerships, corporations, foundations, government agencies, or other entities, without limitations. However, there may be limited circumstances when the Foundation will decline a donation, and the Foundation reserves the right to do so. All decisions to accept donations will be made by the Foundation Board.

When considering whether to accept donations, the Foundation may consider the following factors:

- Values: whether the acceptance of the donation compromises any of the core values of the Foundation.
- Compatibility: whether there is compatibility between the express intent of the donor and the Foundation’s use of the donation.
- Public Relationships: whether acceptance of the donation could damage the reputation of the Foundation.
- Restrictions: whether the donation is so restricted that it does not benefit the Foundation.
- Form of Gift: is the donation offered in a form that the Foundation can use without incurring substantial expense or difficulty?
- Effect on Future Giving: will the donation encourage or discourage future gifts?
